INSTRUCTIONS

The Individual Supported Living (ISL) REVIEW SCORING BOOKLET is specifically designed for reviewing established ISL arrangements. Information and evidence to review an ISL arrangement can be gathered by talking to different people involved in the arrangement, observing how the arrangement is set up, and by examining documents. Talking to different people in different settings can provide useful information. It may be appropriate to visit as a group or as an individual, depending on the person's wishes.

After information has been gathered, each team member individually and independently scores each attribute. All team members should then meet and discuss each Attribute and agree on a conciliated score. During the conciliation process, participants should not share their own initial score until a conciliated score has been agreed. Additional information or observations that come up during a conciliated scoring discussion may change initial scores.

Having a trained facilitator who is external to the arrangement is beneficial. A facilitator can help to reach an agreement on a score. Scores should be assigned based on agreement rather than voting.

The Review Scoring Booklet must be used together with the Individual Supported Living MANUAL which should be studied prior to the review.

- Please read the ISL Manual and familiarise yourself with the ISL Framework before you attempt a review.
- Have the Manual available so you can check the indicators and evidence while you score each Attribute.
- Remember to look for additional opportunities for development in the arrangement for each Attribute you review.

The review process should be respectful, especially if a visit to someone's home is involved. Personal information should be treated confidentially.

Each Attribute is scored on the following scale:

1. Not Addressed: There is no evidence that the Attribute is being addressed.
2. Not Developing: There is little evidence to support the indicators and little evidence to suggest that the Attribute is developing.
3. Developing: There is some evidence to support the indicators and some of the evidence suggests that the Attribute is developing.
4. Well-developed: Most evidence shows that the indicators are being addressed and most of the evidence suggests that the Attribute is well-developed or developing.
5. Optimal: All the evidence indicates that the Attribute is fully developed and cannot be improved.

Over the following pages, please tick inside the box you feel best describes each Attribute. Consider:

- The strength of the evidence for each Indicator and Attribute.
- The areas that need to, or can be developed further.
- Writing down notes and/or reasons why you chose a particular score.

Theme 1: Leadership

An ISL arrangement needs leadership. At least one person has clear and strong ideas. The leader or leaders are persistent. Anyone can be a leader, including persons with disabilities, family members, and service providers.

1.1: The arrangement is based upon a clear vision and strong ideas
1 Not Addressed	2 Not Developing	3 Developing	4 Strong	5 Optimal

1.2: Key people provide the leadership to set up and continue the arrangement
1 Not Addressed	2 Not Developing	3 Developing	4 Strong	5 Optimal

Notes:

Theme 2: My Home

'My Home' means that the ISL arrangement creates the person's own home, not just somewhere to stay.

2.1: The person has secure tenure in the home
1 Not Addressed	2 Not Developing	3 Developing	4 Strong	5 Optimal

2.2: The person does normal things that people do in their homes
1 Not Addressed	2 Not Developing	3 Developing	4 Strong	5 Optimal

2.3: The person's home clearly reflects who the person is and what he or she likes
1 Not Addressed	2 Not Developing	3 Developing	4 Strong	5 Optimal

Notes:

Theme 5: Control

The person at the centre of the ISL arrangement and others who are close to him or her, particularly family members, have a big influence on the arrangement. This may include hands-on management of the arrangement including its planning, development, and implementation.

5.1: The person and those close to him or her (if appropriate) have control over the person’s life
1 Not Addressed	2 Not Developing	3 Developing	4 Strong	5 Optimal

5.2: Self-determination for the person is central to the arrangement
1 Not Addressed	2 Not Developing	3 Developing	4 Strong	5 Optimal

5.3: The person and others close to him or her (if appropriate) have control of the arrangement
1 Not Addressed	2 Not Developing	3 Developing	4 Strong	5 Optimal

Notes:

Theme 8: Social Inclusion

ISL arrangements build wider community inclusion in two ways:

- By encouraging personal relationships with community members and not grouping persons with disabilities.
- By encouraging community participation and not separating persons with disabilities from the community.

8.1: The person has close and long-lasting relationships
1 Not Addressed	2 Not Developing	3 Developing	4 Strong	5 Optimal

8.2: The person has a rich social network
1 Not Addressed	2 Not Developing	3 Developing	4 Strong	5 Optimal

8.3: The person takes part in the community
1 Not Addressed	2 Not Developing	3 Developing	4 Strong	5 Optimal
